

Blue Lagoon by Lily Go

Technical Editor: Chaitanya Muralidhara

Blue Lagoon Shawl is a triangular shawl that can be made with only one skein of sock yarn. This shawl is crocheted from the neck down, and can be adjusted very easily depending on the amount of yarn you have. As with all my other patterns, this pattern comes with both written instructions and charts.

Yarn: For the blue shawl, I used Sundara Sock Yarn (Charcoal Over Blue Lagoon color) 1 skeins (100g, 370 yards). I had about 10 meters or 11 yards leftover.
For the two tone grey color sample, I used 300 yards light grey, and 70 yards dark grey).

Hook: 4.5 mm (US G)

Notions: Removable stitch markers for crochet

Gauge (for sock or fingering weight yarn):

Mark your yarn 97 cm or 38" (stretched out). Within this 97 cm, you should be able to make exactly 10 dc or double crochet, otherwise adjust your hook size accordingly.

Note: exact gauge is not essential for a shawl - it just needs to be close enough to make sure you won't run out of yarn. If you are able to knit fewer stitches than those listed above, you will need more yarn to complete the shawl.

See page 7 for Abbreviations, and page 5 and 6 for the charts.
